

MINISTRY OF ENERGY
REPUBLIC OF SOUTH AFRICA

NATIONAL ASSEMBLY QUESTION 1413

Mr J F Smalle (DA) to ask the Minister of Energy:

Whether her department has reviewed the Liquid Fuels Charter that expired in 2010; if not, why not; if so,

(a) what are the relevant details and (b) when will it be tabled? NW1610E

Reply:

No the review of the liquid fuel Charter has not been done yet, however the department commissioned an audit of compliance by Oil Companies with the Liquid Fuels Charter. The audit report was tabled on 25 April 2012 to Cabinet. The audit outcomes are the precursor to the baseline information required for the charter review process.

The scope of audit amongst others entailed;

- A comprehensive Audit on the level of compliance with the Petroleum and Liquid Fuels industry.
- Impact assessment for all oil companies who are signatories to the South African Petroleum and Liquid Fuels Charter.
- Proposed recommendations to the department regarding short, medium and long term goals for the Petroleum and liquid fuels industry in meeting the objectives, and addressing challenges, of the Charter.
