Here is how you can apply for a Prospecting/Mining Right or Permit

The following are the requirements of how to apply for a Prospecting Right:

A. Details of the land or area

Provide a plan as contemplated in regulation 2(2) of the Mineral and Petroleum Resources Development Act (MPRDA).

B. Prospecting work programme

Full particulars of the prospecting work programme contemplated in regulation 7 of the MPRDA.

C. Financial and technical competence

Provide detailed documents proving that the applicant has access to both technical ability and financial resources compatible with the prospecting work programme that are readily available or how they will be provided for. This will enable the applicant to carry out the prospecting activities in terms of the prospecting work programme and to mitigate and rehabilitate relevant environmental impact satisfactorily.

D. Existing rights and past compliance with provisions of the Act

Provide a list of existing rights and permits held by the applicant to be compiled in table form.

The form should indicate the region, the location with regard to the land name and the existing right or permit number for each mineral or minerals.

E. Prescribed fee

An amount of R 500 application fee is payable as specified in regulation 75(1) (b) of MPRDA.

F. Copy of Identity Document (ID)

An individual applicant must attach a certified copy of their identity document.

The following are the requirements of how to apply for a Prospecting Right (continued...):

G. A certified copy of the certificate issued by the Companies and Intellectual Property Commission (CIPC).

H. Copy of resolution, if acting in a representative capacity
