

It's all systems go for huge refinery at Coega

The biggest economic development in the history of the Eastern Cape-including the creation of close to 50000 construction phase and permanent jobs-came a step closer yesterday with the signing of a crucial agreement on a R75-billion oil refinery.

Energy Minister Dipuo Peters and top executives of the state-owned company Petrosa signed a memorandum of understanding on project Mthombo (fountain) with the Coega Development Corporation (CDC). They also provided a timeframe of five years for its completion. The Herald: October 07, 2009
